

The Word of God from the sound trumpeting of the holy Virginia over the Christians in the town of Gheboieni (Excerpt)

Behold, the heaven joins with the earth to work together. Behold, the earth rises up to heaven, and behold, there are made new heavens and new earth, where the peace and heavenly truth will live together. You cannot be earth any longer, My people; you cannot be a perishable body any longer, for look, I have come to make you heavenly, as this is what God said, that you will be a heavenly people, with heavenly bodies, and the entire world will see this heavenly condition and will be drawn to it.

Oh, look what a task you have from God, My people, as the Lord makes with you a beginning of heavenly and angelic condition, and He establishes the beginning of His kingdom on you.

My beloved children, for this reason I rose so that I may make you alive and it is difficult, My dear children, with this people, it is difficult, for it has not wisdom and it does not know how to get wisdom, it does not know to let itself come to resurrection, and who does not quit sinning and corruption, for that one there is no one to come, for if there is one at this counting, that one has to stand up now because now it is the rising of those of this counting, for we will come back to those without knowledge to work faith and knowledge from God and wonders of which the one without knowledge may marvel and to fill with wisdom in order to gain life and to enter the counting of God. Those will be the dead who will rise at the voice of the Holy Spirit with whom you will be clothed, My people, and there will stand up and will testify God, and behold how much power and life will be poured out over the numb bodies without knowledge.
