

The Word of God at the Feast of the Lord's Baptism (Excerpt)

Peace over this day of heavenly sanctification! Peace and power of Holy Spirit, making of living life; peace over all those who are faithful who have brought back to their places the Lord's feasts as they were set in the very beginning! Many crowds will come to this pool, My beloved ones, as in the time of John the whole Jerusalem and Judea were coming; and there were coming those from the precincts of Jordan as well to be cleansed from their sins by the baptism that came through John. And this moment is going to come, as it was at that time. There will come the scribes and the Pharisees of nowadays, for they will see the Lord's power which is here, and they will flee to it to escape from the wrath that is going to come; they will come, for they will understand then that the Lord will have raised those downcast and fulfilled the Scriptures that says that God has the power to complete Abraham's people and those who have been neglected; they will come and see the miracles of the Holy Spirit and they will be baptized with the Holy Spirit and fire, because the threshold will be cleansed and there will be the separation between the wheat and the chaff, and behold, there will be a great day of baptism with Holy Spirit and fire, and many of the unfaithful ones will be saved then, according to the word that says: «They will be saved as by fire». (1 Cor. 3/15)
