The Word of God

… He who is with God will save to the third generation, but not those who were in this place.

… This body is a mere hand of dust, which I took through the fire and water, through the sea and all kind of pain without comfort.

… No one has received the crown for the works. The saints go and ask: "How long, Lord?" "Go to your places, for unless those that are in the great tribulation do not come, we will not divide the gifts." This is what the Lord tells you: you will be the one in the great tribulation, which the heaven will wait with a retinue.
