The Word of God to His chosen one, Irineu

(Excerpt)

God answers at the voice of the heart. Peace to the heart whose voice cries and is heard in heaven! Peace to you, little heart! However, I have My dwelling in your little heart and I will make it big by My dwelling in it, and I am making it My throne, and from the tent of your heart I am making My footstool, for My name is your Creator. Amen.

… I started to break at the root of My field and I got up to take care of My vineyard that was brought to the ground. I am sitting with you in counsel for a little while to tell Me that you are with Me and not without Me, and that I may also tell you that I am with you and not without you. However, I want to be with you, and you know how this work comes for Me to be with you. Take the fear out of you and do not seek to fall down from heaven, gentle child. Let the heaven keep you at its bosom, for there is no other haven besides Me, but be wise, for My heaven is in your heart, and My kingship is in it.

The people of the earth do not know how to understand this Scripture which is from heaven. They do not even know that My church is from heaven and not from earth, and that I do not dwell with the New Jerusalem in human places, but rather I live in dwellings which want to be from heaven and not from earth. If I commanded and spoke that a stone of witness may be founded, and My word came down with Me from the heavenly ones, behold, I am the God of what is not seen and of those from heaven that are seen and not of the earthly ones, and I am of the earthly ones which mean those from heaven, but the Lord sees no longer faith on earth and sees no longer heavenly wise men, and He sees only earthly wise people that remained but clay, that is swallowed by the earth, that is without wisdom from heaven. This is what I have been speaking through the time in this work, and I have been speaking that I will take it above and I have said that he who will strike it and not believe it, that one will be swallowed by the earth and will lose the wisdom that comes from this age.
