The Word of God, seven years after the laying down of the stone foundation of the Holy of Holies of the New Jerusalem

(Excerpt)

Take heed of My voice, sons from the garden. Stand before Me as I lay Myself down as a word of testimony for the celebration of the day when I wrote down the election of this little patch of land and to raise it then to the honor that it has before Me.

In 1991, on the 22nd of the seventh month, I spoke a word over the stone from the beginning of the citadel of My word through My bishop Irineu, whom I raised from among the bishops of nowadays to be My witness of the beginning day of My annunciation over Romania, and then to be the witness of the sealing with the law of the holiness of this settlement, so that the man on the earth may know that I, the Lord, became a river of word over the entire ground of this garden, which is called the beginning of the earth, in the beginning and in the end of God's work.

Oh, anointed sons, it is a great work that I have someone to speak with on the earth. Oh, anointed sons, that day was great and waited to be and to come out with the mysterious things that I, the Lord, had to lay down over Romania, and to come out with Romania before the nations, for it is the first. Amen, amen, amen. I am in it at this end, and the last one is the first. Amen.

… Behold, I have established the seat of judgment, and My word sits on it and works this work over every man. Amen, amen, amen.
