

The Word of God of the third Sunday after the Passover, of the prudes
(Excerpt)

I open the windows of the heavens for the river of life to flow over My New Jerusalem so that it may drink of it. Amen. Let the heaven and the earth drink; let it drink and let them have life of the river of My word; let My people drink and not perish. Amen.

Oh, Jerusalem, you should drink of this water and you should always drink, for I always give you. I always give you, because if I did not give you, you would get as dry as flower and grass in the time of drought. I will always give you so that there may be no enemy to overcome you, for when the enemy sees that I water you and that you grow and are, he cannot overcome you and he does not get up to do any harm to you. When an enemy wants to subject a citadel, first he tries to cut off its water supply and then the citadel is surrendered to its enemy. But it is not the same with you, oh, citadel of the Lord, for your spring is from above and is not from below and whoever drinks from above that one is from above. Amen.

Oh, peace to you, citadel of the Lord, peace from the Lord, your God! I am great over you and I water you with the heaven so that you may be the heaven on earth and that I may dwell into you and to give Myself to you, and to give Myself to the poor who seek to Me for their peace and comfort and for their life. Amen.

... Oh, Jerusalem, I turned you into joy for those alive in heaven and on earth, as I come to you and prepare My coming with the saints as I prepared My resurrection from the dead with those who were Mine two thousand years ago. I am at the table of holy Passover with those in heaven and with those on the earth. Those in heaven testify about My resurrection on earth, and those on earth testify in heaven and on earth My coming about which I spoke at that time. My coming is the reward of My saints, who have waited for Me for seven thousand years and for two thousand years. For those who have cried for such a long time: «Until when, Lord?» That is why I have made My coming. For them, oh, My today's children, for them I have made you a people of My disciples during these days. For them, My today's children so that the earth may give back their resurrected bodies as I came out from the earth in a living body for the resurrection of those asleep. Amen. (See the selection topic: „Resurrection of the dead“, r.n.)

... Behold the saints with Me and with you at the heavenly table of memorial, to which those asleep and remembered at My altar with you come together, a rich table in mercy, sons, the table of reconciliation, well sons.

Virginia is full of comfort from you. (Saint Virginia, the sixth apocalyptic trumpet - see selection topic: „The apocalyptic trumpets“, r.n.) She was bringing to Me this table of holy spirit year by year when she lived in her body on earth. Now, she is only joy, and she brought her sleeping people to stay at the table with the living people. She rejoices that has a living people and she says:

— Lord, receive this sacrifice, bless Your inheritance and bless Your people, Lord, and give them victory against death on earth. And, Lord, give them the incorruptibility. Amen, amen, amen.

— I am giving it to them, Virginia, only for them to give Mine in them too. I am giving them, for this is My labor, My pain and My longing, for I am coming and I am fully ready to give them the incorruptibility and through them to renew the earth with the eternal life and to redeem the creature and to give it to the incorruptibility. Amen.
