The Word of God

My people, My children, you who know God and have faith, please pray for all the world; children, husbands and wives, brothers, sisters, friends, acquaintances and for all, so that they may come back to the right way and true faith for which much blood was shed in order to be sealed, so that we may know too, and the latter ones to know how to live to get there from where they came here, on earth. Well My sheep, today I am the Spirit Who comforts you, the Savior Who saves you, the home who rests and welcomes you; I am all you want, just come when I call you, when I wait for you! Come as I have many to tell you, but you cannot keep them now as they are stolen from you. Oh, My flock, keep to whatever you have heard, to fulfill them, as not those who hear will be saved but only the doers. Oh, children do not be clanging, do not be whitewashed copper. Be pure gold, tried in the waves of life. Stand against all the vain desires and worries through which the Evil one steals you. Today we live the time of Noah. What did they do then? They were marrying and given in marriage, eating and drinking. Who said*: „Make for yourself an ark?"* Who helped him? What were the people and those who helped him to make the ark saying? They were laughing at him. What do the people say now when they hear the wrath of the Father, which will be poured out on earth because of unbelief and iniquities that the world keeps all the time doing?

… Son, if I tell you that you are a believer, you hold fast and do not fall, and if I tell you that you are a sinner, you deny Me. Man wants to be praised. This is human's nature; it wants to be exalted in the flesh for a moment. Lift yourselves up, but not here, children. Do not wish to be exalted now on earth, for the whole earth is full of muddy water and above the water there are thousands and thousands of little boats and in the boats are urchins and these urchins go to the west. They are musicians and singers and they have spread tables where they take their pleasure. Here, there is above a little boat and in the boat, there is a prophetess and speaks. She enjoys it and makes fun and during the trip the boat overturns and the devil laughs. In addition to this muddy water there another water is forming. Over one bank there is a clear water and on the water's edge there are two large trees, with their leaves resembling and those leaves light this clean water, and there are in the water thousands and thousands of little fish which travel on these rays and ask: „Is it still more?" And here there is a road, and on the road, there passes a chariot with two white horses with their heads of fire and in the chariots, there are two people. Who are these? Enoch and Elijah. They are prophets. The chariot goes eastwards. Little fishes became a people and ask, „How much is it until it is fulfilled?" Here, on the left, there is a demolished city and through the rubble you can see dead people. In the right there is a new citadel and the people are dressed from top to bottom in white clothes, white as snow. No one that has not got white clothes can enter this citadel, for this citadel is guarded by soldiers and twelve angels, which have their censers, bowls and plates. Understand, for I give you this to understand them.

Here four little angels who have in their hand the four Gospels, and all make only one, and there the Emperor gets out of the gate, and the Emperor is full of blood and on His forehead He bears a name which cannot be written. The Emperor cries and says, «The kingdom belongs to the Lord!» I cannot tell you openly, sons. This Emperor went to war and took with Him the holy army. The army does not have clothes sprinkled with blood, but only the Emperor. Do you believe it? Consuming fire gets out of His eyes with which He will cleanse the whole sin from this earth. The Emperor is full of blood too and He is a Prophet too. Do you understand it? What is water? What are the little fishes? What are these words? The water is life which is lived in purity; little fishes are the people. What are the chariot and the prophets Enoch and Elijah? Which is the torn down city? (World church, red. note .) Which is the new citadel? (Church of God – New Jerusalem, r.n.) Do not trouble yourselves if you do not know!

Here, this is what Father says, „Son, let the earthly book and take the heavenly one. Woe to us, earth and sea, for the Lord wants to destroy you!"

Sons, if you had love as I want, you would have fly through the air.

In front of My vessel (Virginia, the trumpet of the Lord, r.n.) two people boasted that had gunpowder and that they would destroy it and then it would not lead the world astray, but you tell My vessel (through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) not to be afraid.

Sons, in My house of prayer, evil spirits walk together with you too. Do you believe? I entered after you and hardly have I found you among the evil spirits. Do you believe? Woe to the ones who do not believe that evil spirits stand at the door! Here the priests too do not give people spiritual food necessary to My people. I do not tell you to hate the priests. Pray for them for the evil ones steal them too.
