The Word of God

The greedy man at all breaks God's building. Greed is the evil spirit. Son, Christian, fast to lose your desire and ask God for temperance of your body! Christian, you get up at night and you cannot say your prayer, but can do other bad things and the whole hours pass this way. Young man, my eyes hurt me looking at your sins. Oh, only if you were the one who keeps heaven and earth in his hand. Oh, what great pain!

… I have wonderful words, but whom shall I give them? You say that you are Christian, but you do not leave the bottle from your hand. You know that you are a driver and you do not drink as you get off your job, but from the Kingdom of God will you not be driven out? From your job you do not miss an hour for you get fired, but are you not afraid that you will be driven out from the garden of God when you miss?

… How nice it is in the city! It writes taproom, tobacconist, food store, only death it is not written, but death is written in another language. Do not rise against Me, as you have the right to say that I did not tell you that it is written death. It is not sin to buy, but buy only what you need. Blessed are those in the city if you do not touch your little clothes with this pitch.
