The Word of God

The antichrist has risen and he is not in the body anymore rather he is in the hearts of everyone. He says that he is Mr. Marin, he says that he is Mr. John, that he is Mr. Gheorghe, he says that he is Mrs. Mariţa or Madame Eleonora, but look that the antichrist is hidden into their hearts. Who opened the door? Look how man is blaspheming. Only the antichrist was persecuting and blaspheming.

… My little children, on this trip I have been taking a beautiful walk. My little children, in a very little while we will see each other again. Go to sleep with the thought at the happiness that awaits for you. Go to sleep with the thought at the heavenly kingdom, at your relatives that wait for you, for no one waits for this day; it is like a train, sons. Do you believe that? And the train, goes on a little while and then will stop. And the car, too; it goes on a little while and then will stop. And the plane, too; in a little while will stop. And all the breath will stop. Do you see the world? Do you see this vineyard? It is now and there will no longer be, but it will be dry and bare. Do you see this human creature, how it eats, how it drinks and carouses and it does not think about its death? There is still a little bit and you will see it as pale with terror in its face as a pumpkin. Let he who has wisdom understand this. There will be no man with illness, for no one gets out of this illness, because there will no longer be doctors, there will no longer be priests, or almsgiving, and he will lie down like wax. The tallow will flow from it like wax and stink out the fields, it will stink out the lands, but you will no longer be, for the Lord's hand will rapture you and lift you up above the earth so that you will not smell their stench. Come to your senses, for behold, everything is changing with every passing day. You will have brothers, you will have a mother, you will have sisters, who will leave you and you should pray so that their leave may not be to their destruction.
